

Watch: 'Courageous Learning' Documentary

Posted in Featured, General By Mike Lesczinski

Link to view this documentary: <http://news.wp.excelsior.edu/watch-courageous-learning/>

There are more than 93 million Americans in the workforce today without a degree. Their standard of living is falling and their earnings gap is increasing. These adults missed their chance to go to college — or never finished a degree program.

A new documentary, Courageous Learning, produced by Excelsior College, follows the lives of three adult students: Shawn, Joe, and Angeline — a veteran, a single dad, and a nurse — as they face obstacles in the pursuit of higher education. Experts, including leaders from academia, think tanks, government, and nonprofits, provide a guide to the landscape of post-secondary education in the 21st century — and reveal it as terrain that too few travel.

The book, Courageous Learning: Finding a New Path Through Higher Education, by Excelsior College President John Ebersole and William B. Patrick is also available for review. The book was published in 2011.

Excelsior College has an education partnership with Rainbow Division Veterans Foundation (RDVF). RDVF employees, members and their spouses or domestic partners will receive reduced pricing on tuition and fees while pursuing associate and bachelor degrees and reduced tuition for graduate/master's degrees and on tuition for credit bearing certificates at Excelsior College. For more information on the partnership go to: <http://www.excelsior.edu/web/partners/rainbow>

If you have any questions in regard to the Veteran partnership, contact 888-647-2388 ext. 1352 or email veterans@excelsior.edu